- (a) has the ability to exercise significant market power in any communications market in Lesotho; or
 - (b) operates communications infrastructure that is sufficiently costly or difficult to replicate such that requiring new entrants to do so would create a significant barrier to rapid and successful entry by an efficient competitor.
- (2) In assessing whether a licensee has significant market power, in a relevant market the Authority shall give due consideration to whether the licensee provides, or previously has provided, any reserved or restricted service.
- (3) A dominant licensee shall be subject to the statutory and regulatory provisions applicable to dominant licensees for all infrastructure that it operates, and in all communications markets in which it participates within Lesotho.
- (4) The Authority, after providing an opportunity for public comment, may exempt the dominant licensee from the application of any such provision to—
- (a) any service provided by the dominant licensee in a market in which the dominant licensee does not have significant market power; or

- (b) any infrastructure operated by the dominant licensee that is not sufficiently costly or difficult to replicate such that requiring new entrants to do so would create a significant barrier to rapid and successful entry by an efficient competitor.
- (5) The Authority may reclassify a dominant licensee as non-dominant if the licensee no longer meets the criteria for classification as a dominant licensee.
- (6) The Authority may grant an exemption, or reclassify a licensee, either—
 - (a) on its own motion; or
 - (b) at the request of the licensee.
- (7) The Authority shall publish a notice in the Gazette in any case in which the Authority—
 - (a) classifies a licensee as dominant;
 - (b) reclassifies a dominant licensee as non-dominant; or
 - (c) grants an exemption to a dominant licensee.

22. Competitive safeguards

- (1) In addition to any requirements contained in this Act, the Authority may adopt competitive safeguards designed to deter a dominant licensee from using its significant market power in one market to impede the development of competition in another market.
- (2) Competitive safeguards may include rules that require a dominant licensee to—
 - (a) offer services on an unbundled basis;
 - (b) separately account for costs and revenues related to specific services;
 - (c) establish separate corporate affiliates to provide specific services;
 - (d) use separate facilities or personnel to provide specific services;
 - (e) disclose information about specific infrastructure or services to other licensees;
 - (f) not engage in cross-subsidisation; and
 - (g) not engage in discrimination in favour of an affiliate.
- (3) The Authority may also adopt provisions designed to prevent a licensee who is affiliated with an entity that has significant market power in any market, whether or not within Lesotho, from using that affiliation in a manner that enables the licensee to, or is likely to enable it to, unreasonably restrict competition in any communications market in Lesotho.

23. Abuse of dominant position

- (1) A dominant licensee shall not use its significant market power in a manner that unreasonably restricts, or is likely to unreasonably restrict, competition in any communications market in Lesotho.
- (2) A dominant licensee shall not engage in unilateral conduct that has, or is likely to—
 - (a) significantly restrict output below the competitive level, increase prices above cost, reduce quality below the level that end users seek, reduce end users' choice or deter innovation; or

- (b) preserve or enhance its dominant position by engaging in conduct that deters or precludes efficient companies from participating in the market by means other than competing based on service availability, price and quality.
- (3) A dominant licensee abuses its dominant position if the Authority concludes that the dominant licensee engaged, or is engaging, in—
- (a) predatory pricing;
 - (b) price squeezing;
 - (c) unreasonable discrimination;
 - (d) exclusionary refusals to deal; or
 - (e) tying.
- (4) A dominant licensee engages in predatory pricing if the evidence demonstrates that—
- (a) the dominant licensee is selling a communications service at a price that is less than the average incremental cost of the service;
 - (b) the dominant licensee's sells at prices below average incremental cost and have driven, or are likely to drive, efficient rivals from the market or deter future efficient rivals from entering the market; and
 - (c) entry barriers are so significant that, after driving rivals from the market or deterring entry, the dominant licensee could impose an increase in prices sufficient (in amount and duration) to enable the dominant licensee to recoup the full amount of the loss that it incurred during the period during which the predatory conduct occurred.
- (5) A dominant licensee engages in a price squeeze if the evidence demonstrates that—
- (a) the dominant licensee provides a communications service or facility that is necessary, as an input, for another licensee to provide a communication service; and
 - (b) the price that the dominant licensee charges for the communications service or facility is so high that an efficient competitor could not profitably sell its product if it were required to recover the full purchase price of the input through its charges to its end users.
- (6) A dominant licensee engages in unreasonable discrimination if the evidence demonstrates that the dominant licensee has provided an affiliate with access to infrastructure, systems, services or information, necessary to enable a non-affiliated licensee to provide a communications services, on prices, terms or conditions that are more favourable than the prices, terms and conditions on which the dominant licensee provides those infrastructure, systems, services or information to licensees that are not affiliates, without any objective justification.
- (7) A dominant licensee engages in an exclusionary refusal to deal if the evidence demonstrates that the dominant licensee has refused to provide a non-affiliated licensee with access to infrastructure, systems, services or information necessary to enable the non-affiliated licensee to provide a communications services, without any objective justification.
- (8) A dominant licensee engages in tying if the evidence demonstrates that the dominant licensee required a customer to purchase a communications service that is subject to effective competition in order to be allowed to purchase a communications service that is not subject to effective competition.
- (9) In any case in which the Authority has reason to believe that a dominant licensee has engaged in conduct that constitutes an abuse of dominant position, the Authority may conduct an investigation.

- (10) In any case in which the Authority determines that a dominant licensee has engaged in conduct that constitutes an abuse of dominant position, the Authority may—
 - (a) direct the licensee to cease the abusive conduct; and
 - (b) take enforcement action, pursuant to section 46 of this Act.

24. Anti-competitive agreements

- (1) A licensee shall not enter into any agreement, whether or not legally enforceable, that unreasonably restricts, or is likely to unreasonably restrict competition in any communications market in Lesotho.
- (2) An agreement shall be unreasonable if the parties have agreed, expressly or tacitly, to—
 - (a) fix prices;
 - (b) restrict output;
 - (c) co-ordinate separate bids;
 - (d) allocate customers or geographic markets; or
 - (e) not to do business with a specific supplier, licensee or customer.
- (3) The Authority shall assess whether other types of agreements have, or are likely to, unreasonably restrict competition based on their actual or likely effect on competition.
- (4) In any case in which the Authority has reason to believe that a licensee has entered into an agreement that has, or is likely to, unreasonably restrict competition in any communications market within Lesotho, the Authority may conduct an investigation, pursuant to section 45.
- (5) In any case in which the Authority determines that a licensee has entered into an agreement that has, or is likely to, unreasonably restrict competition in any communications market within Lesotho, the Authority may—
 - (a) direct the licensee to modify the agreement to remove the unreasonable restriction;
 - (b) void the agreement; or
 - (c) take enforcement action, pursuant to section 46.
- (6) The Authority may exempt any agreement involving 2 or more licensees for the joint deployment or operation of infrastructure used to provide a communications service, where the Authority concludes that the agreement is necessary to foster the deployment of communications services to geographic areas that might not otherwise have access to such services.

25. Consolidation review

- (1) The Authority shall declare certain licensees as designated communications licensees and shall designate any licensee who—
